CATALOGUE OF RARE BOOKS No. 341.

(In continuation of the series so long issued from New Bond Street, London).

BUSINESS BY POST OR BY APPOINTMENT.

- 1 AETNA.—A True and Exact Relation of the Late Prodigious Earthquake and Eruption of Mount Aetna, or Monte-Gibello; as it came in a Letter written to His Majesty from Naples by the Earle of Winchelsea, His Majesties late Ambassador at Constantinople, who in his Return from thence Visiting Catania in the Island of Sicily, was an Eye-witness of that Dreadfull Spectacle. Together with a more particular Narrative of the same, as it is Collected out of severall Relations sent from Catania. Printed by T. Newcomb, 1669. Sm. 4to folding view of the Eruption, unbound £2 10s
- 2 AGARD (Arthur), The Repertorie of Records: Remaining in the 4 Treasuries on the Receipt side at Westminster. The two Remembrancers of the Exchequer. With a briefe introductiue Index of the Records of the Chancery and Tower: Whereby to giue the better Direction to the Records abouesaid. As also, a most exact Calender of all those Records of the Tower. [Edited by T. Powell.] London, Printed by B. Alsop and T. Fawcet, 1631. Sm. 4to, old sheep. £2 10s
- 3 ALEXANDER (Sir William, afterwards Earl of Stirling), Recreations with the Muses. London, Printed by Tho. Harper, 1637. Folio, title within woodcut border original calf gilt, with gilt centre ornament, flanked with the initials S.F.; bound at the ends are fragments of an early MS. on vellum containing a curious drawing of a woman painted in red and blue, gilt edges. £10 10s
A very fine copy of this book as originally issued. It seems very doubtful whether the portrait of Alexander by Marshall which is found in a very few copies had any connection with the book as originally issued. In the Huth copy it was certainly inserted; it is probable that other copies which now contain it were so embellished at the beginning of the XIXth century.
Contains: "Foure Monarchicke Tragedies. Domesday, or, the great day of the Lords judgement. A Parænesis to Prince Henry. Jonathan, An heroicke Poeme intended."
- 4 ALFIERI (F. Recommends English schools and universities as suitable for the purpose. At the end, in a supplementary note, reviews the system of education of the Jesuits. ORIGINAL MANUSCRIPT of the XVIII Century dated August 28th, 1766, clearly written upon 19 leaves of paper. 8vo, bound in contemporary red limp morocco, gold tooled borders on the sides, gilt edges. £3 3s
Browne, who was the author of "An Estimate of the Manners and Principles of the Times" and other writings, was consulted about the provision of a school system of Russia. Browne proposed plans which were submitted to the Empress Catharine II, who immediately invited him to visit St. Petersburg, and upon his consent forwarded £1,000 to the Russian ambassador for the expenses of the journey. Browne began to make preparations for the journey, but his health broke down, and the arrangements had to be cancelled. He wrote this address to the Empress, at the same time apologising for his inability to undertake the journey. He was apparently disappointed and vexed at his failure, and in less than a month from the date of this document, he committed suicide.
- 44 [BROWNE (Thomas), B.D.] The Weesils, A Satyrical Fable [on Dr. Wm. Sherlock] giving an Account of some Argumental Passages happening in the Lion's Court about Weesilion's taking the Oaths. London, Printed in the Year 1691.—The Anti-Weesils. A Poem. GOTHIC LETTER, printed in double columns, title printed in red and black, with Regnault's device beneath, woodcut initials, old calf. £4 4s
The author, whose name is sometimes given as Borough, was D.D. of Cambridge and rector of Collingham, Nottinghamshire. He was Chancellor of the University of Cambridge in 1384. Regnault in publishing this book doubtless selected it as one popular with English book-buyers for whom he specially catered.
This edition does not appear in the B.M. Catalogue of French Books. 1924.
- 48 BURRIDGE (R.), A Congratulatory Poem, on the coronation of Queen Ann; as it was Presented to Her most Serene Majesty. London, Printed by James Reid, 1702. Folio, sewed. £4 4s

72 CHRONIQUES DE NORMANDIE. MANUSCRIPT written by a French scribe about 1400 in a neat hand in double columns on 146 leaves of vellum, with a HALF-PAGE MINIATURE IN GOLD AND COLOURS at beginning of text and twelve small miniatures IN GRISAILLE, twelve borders of ivy leaf decoration, some with grotesque monsters, initial on the first page of text containing the arms of a member of the Chastel family, and these arms are repeated in another initial on the verso of folio 14, other initials in gold on grounds of blue and magenta, headings in red, and paragraph marks in red and blue. Folio, panelled brown morocco, with arms of the Duke of Newcastle on the sides, gilt edges, by F. Bedford. £215

The Chronicle is in prose. The greater portion is based upon Wace's metrical poem the ROMAN DE ROU but the chronicle is continued to the beginning of the reign of Henry III. of England, and contains interesting passages relating to Richard Coeur de Lion, notably the story of Blondel the minstrel. This appears to be an earlier version of the text than the manuscripts of the work in the British Museum.

This Beautiful Manuscript has an interesting provenance. The coat of arms painted in the opening initial shows that it was written for a member of the Chastel family, probably for Tanneguy de Chastel the elder who is best remembered for the part he took in the assassination of John the Fearless Duke of Burgundy in revenge for the murder of the Duke of Orleans to whom Tanneguy had been Chamberlain.

An inscription on the fly-leaf informs us that it afterwards belonged to a Thomas Meredyth who may have been a resident at Calais. At any rate the Manuscript was at Calais at the time the City was taken by the French under the Duke of Guise in 1557 and Claude de Lorraine valued it so much that he kept it as a special souvenir of the victory having this arms painted in gold and colours on a full leaf of vellum before the text with this inscription written below.

"Tres vertueux et magnanime prince Claude de Lorraine, duc d'Aumalle me raporta de la ville de Calais lors que apres avoir esté deux cents dix ans angloise elle fut réduite et mise en l'obéissance du Roy par Monseigneur le duc de Guyse son frere et luy Phuictiesme de Janvier, 1557."

John Davies, who was first educated by William Morgan, the translator of the Bible into Welsh, afterwards went to Ruthin School and Jesus College, Oxford. He became rector of Mallwyd, Merionethshire, in 1604, and assisted Dr. Parry in the preparation of his great Welsh Bible. Continuing his studies in Welsh literature he produced the present dictionary, the first part in Welsh and Latin and the second in Latin and Welsh. In the preface to the second part he acknowledges his indebtedness to the manuscript of a Dictionary compiled by Thomas Williams, who died in 1620.

- 109 [DEKKER (Thomas)] The Noble Souldier. Or, a Contract Broken, Justly Reveng'd. A Tragedy. Written by S. R. London, Printed for Nicholas Vavasour, 1634. Sm. 4to, FIRST EDITION, one leaf (folio C4) slightly defective at bottom, half morocco, VERY RARE. £9 9s
This play, which met with success in representation, is usually attributed to Samuel Rowley. The running headline is "The Noble Spanish Souldier." Nicholas Vavasour, the publisher, entered it in the "Stationers Register" as by Thomas Dekker. It was doubtless either Dekker's work edited by Rowley, or Rowley's work revised and completed by Dekker. According to the address of the printer to the reader, the author was dead at the time of its publication. Dekker does not appear to have died much before 1641, and, on that assumption, the second hypothesis, which assigns to Dekker the main responsibility for the piece, seems the more acceptable.

- 141 FIELDING (Henry), The Causidicade. A Panegyri-Satiri-Serio-Comic-Dramatical Poem. On the Strange Resignation, and Stranger-Promotion. London, Printed for M. Cooper, 1743. Sm. 4to, sewed. £1 10s

At the time of its publication this satirical poem was attributed to Henry Fielding. In his preface to David Simple published in 1744 Fielding denied the authorship. This appears to be an early issue of the First Edition without the pseudonym Porcupinus Pelagius on the title; otherwise it agrees with the description in Mr. Cross's Bibliography of Fielding (the HISTORY OF HENRY FIELDING, vol. 3, p. 343).

- 142 FINGLAS (Baron Patrik), A Breviat of the Conqueste of Irelande and the decay of the same. MANUSCRIPT of the XVIIth Century, neatly written upon 5 leaves of paper, with original blank leaf prefaced. Folio, unbound £3 3s

That an Act of Parliament may pass for building and fitting out with expedition a Fleet of 500 Busses of about 70 Tuns burthens a piece, to be imploy'd in fishing for Herrings, Cod and Ling, in his Majesties Seas; and the profits to be disposed for the increasing of the said Fishing Vessels to the number of 2000 or thereabouts. Printed by H. Bruggis in the Year 1677. Broadside, slightly defective. £3 3s

- 145 FLETCHER (Phineas), Locustæ, vel pietas Iesuitica. Apud Thomam & Joannem Bucke, celeberrimæ Academiae Typographos. 1627. [Second title]. The Locusts, or Apollyonists. Printed by Thomas Bucke and John Bucke, Printers to the Universitie of Cambridge, 1627. 2 Parts in 1 vol. Sm. 4to, FIRST EDITION, dark blue morocco, gilt edges. £12 12s

The First Part in Latin Verse is dedicated to Sir Roger Townshend, the patron of Phineas's brother Giles, followed by commendatory verses by S. Collins. The Second Part in English Verse, in five cantos of nine-line stanzas, is dedicated to Lady Townshend and has prefatory verses by H.M., perhaps Henry More. It is said Milton was indebted to this work in composing "PARADISE LOST."

- 146 FLORIO (John), Queen Anna's New World of Words, or Dictionarie of the Italian and English tongues. Collected, and newly much augmented by John Florio, reader of the Italian, unto the Soueraigne Maiestie of Anna, crowned Queene of England, Scotland France and Ireland. &c. Whereunto are added certaine necessarie rules and short observations for the Italian tongue. London, Printed by Melch. Bradwood, for Edw. B'bunt and William Barrett, 1611. Folio. woodcut border to title, and brilliant impression of the engraved portrait of Florio by W. Hole, fine copy, in contemporary calf gilt. £15 15s

This copy belonged to Elizabeth, Lady Berkeley, and has her initials E.B. several times repeated on the back. On a fly-leaf is an entry giving the date (10th April, 1627) of the birth of her son George, afterwards First Earl Berkeley. This is of importance as the date of his birth is not recorded in the COMPLETE PEERAGE. Another entry of interest written 21 years later is in the handwriting of John Pearson, afterwards Bishop of Chester and famous for his book on "The Creed." Pearson was then chaplain to the Berkeleys, and this is what he has written:—

On ye first day of December in ye yeare of ye Lord one thousand six hundred forty eight John Turner son to John Turner Barrister and Mrs. Jeny Turner his wife was baptised at Asted in ye County of Surrey by mee John Pearson.

Godfathers.—Mr. George Berkeley. Mr. John Pepys,

Godmother.—Mrs. Elizabeth Pepys.

John Pepys was the "Cosen Pepys of Salisbury Court" (and of Ashtead) mentioned by Samuel Pepys in his Diary, and his daughter Jane was the Jeny Turner of this inscription and the Madam Turner of the Diary. Mr. Whitear in his volume "More Pepysiana" 1927 gives a pedigree of the Turner family (p. 61) but does not record the name of this son John amongst the children of John and Jane Turner.

- 147 FORBES (William, 'Advocate, Professor of Law in the University of Glasgow), A Methodical Treatise, concerning Bills of Exchange: wherein is an Account of the Rise and Progress of Exchange: the Nature and Kinds of it explained: the prevailing Custom of Merchants, illustrated and confirm'd from Civil Law; the Authority of Lawyers and Writers Ancient and Modern: Scottish and English Acts of Parliament, etc. Edinburgh, Printed by John Mosman, William Brown and James M. Euen, 1718. 8vo, contemporary mottled calf. £1 10s

Knight and Baronet.* London, Printed for Sa. Gellibrand, 1667. Sm. 4to, FIRST EDITION, title-page slightly defective and inlaid, half calf, scarce. £3 3s
This poem, written in Latin hexameters with the English translation on opposite pages, contains a description of the damage caused by the Great Fire of London. At the end are verses "The Author to the Graver upon occasion of a Draught of London in Flames, designed to have been prefixed as a Frontispiece to the Poem, but forborn upon second thoughts."
The author was educated at the Grammar Schools at Exeter and Dorchester, and afterwards entered Magdalen Hall, Oxford.
- 150 FORTESCUE (Sir John), A learned commendation of the politique lawes of England: wherein by most pitthy reasons and euident demonstrations they are plaincly proued farre to extell as well the Ciuile lawes of the Empiere, as also all other lawes of the worlde, wyth a large discourse of the difference betwene the ii gouernementes of kingdomes: whereof the one is onely regall and the other consisteth of regall and politique administration conioyned. Newly translated into Englishe by Robert Mulcaster. Imprinted at Londo in Fletestrete, within Temple barre, at the signe of the Hande and Starre, by R'charde Totell. 1573. Sm. 8vo, BLACK and roman letter, good copy, in the original calf. £5 5s
The Latin text is given side by side with the English translation. There is a Dedication by Mulcaster to "John Walshe, Esq., one of the Queene her learned Justicers of her highnes court of common pleses."
- 151 FRANCE.—An Historical Collection of the most Memorable Accidents, and Tragically Massacres of France, under the Raignes of Henry 2. Francis 2. Charles 9. Henry 3. Henry 4. now liuing. - 167 GHETIDEN van onser lieuer vrouwen, met die seuen psalmen, mit die vergheli va neghe lessen; en veie scone oracie va santi en santine. Gepret te pariis Int iæer ons herren Mccccxcvii [1497] voor Willem hout mart wollende lantwerpe int vog el huys buyte die Camer poeete, ef daer salmerse vinden te crepe. A remarkable collection of half sheets containing about 50 leaves of this rare Flemish Book of Hours. Sm. 8vo, printed in red and black on paper, within ornamental borders. £9 9s
This series was discovered within the covers of an early stamped binding, which was probably executed in Paris. It includes the colophon leaf containing the title and imprint given above. As it is not recorded in Lacombe it would seem that no copy of this Flemish Book of Hours exists in the public libraries of Paris, although it was executed by John Higman, the Paris printer for W. Houtmaert of Antwerp. The only known copy in this country is that in the British Museum, which is printed on vellum, and lacks only a few leaves. We have compared these half-sheets with the British Museum copy and find among them a sheet q, and a leaf E1 as well as a leaf following the calendar and containing two full-page woodcuts, which are not in the British Museum copy. There are several pages of the calendar for parts of July, August, September, the whole of October, November and nearly all December, but these are different from the B.M. copy, and are of considerable bibliographical interest as they seem to indicate that the leaves now discovered belong to a different issue of the book of which no copy in book form now survives.
- 168 [GILBERT (Thomas)], THRENODE: or, Englands Passing Bell. [In versel]. London, Printed in the year 1679. Sm. 4to, half calf, gilt top. £3 3s

Londini, 1691. Sm. 4to, fine copy, with engraved title by Loggan, and 8 plates, contemporary red morocco, gilt panelled sides, gilt edges. £8 8s
*The illustrations relate to the baths at Bath, with which the greater part of the volume deals: a large number of cases (with names and addresses) of patients and cures effected by the use of the Bath waters are given. The hot springs at Buxton and Bristol are, amongst others, also dealt with.
Pepys visited Bath in June, 1668, and the illustrations in the volume tally with the description he gives of the baths.*

- 175 HARLEY.—The Tryal of Robert Earl of Oxford and Earl Mortimer, upon the Impeachment of the House of Commons, exhibited against him for High Treason, and other High Crimes and Misdemeanours. London, Printed for Jacob Tonson, 1717. Folio, sewed. £1 10s
- 176 GUEVARA (Antonio de), The Familiar Epistles of Sir Antonie of Guevara, Preacher, Chronicler and Counsellor to the Emperor Charles the Fifth: translated out of the Spanish tongue, by Edward Hellowes, Groome of the Leash, and now newly imprinted, corrected and enlarged, with other Epistles of the same Author. At London, Printed by Ralph Newberie, 1584. Sm. 4to, BLACK LETTER, title within ornamental border, brown calf. £6 6s
A most interesting book, full of ancient lore, wise saws, and modern instances, and one which we cannot doubt was familiar to and studied by SHAKESPEARE.
- 177 HARRY (George Owen), The Genealogy of the High and Mighty Monarch, James, by the grace of God, King of great Brittain, &c. with his lineall descent from Noah, by diuers direct lynes to Brutus, first Inhabiter of the Ile of Brittain: and from him to Cadwalader, the last King of the Brittainish blood; and from thence, sundry wayes to his Maiesty, wherein is playnly shewed his rightfull Title, by lawfull descent from the said Cadwalader, as well to the Kingdome of Brittain, as to the Principalities of Northwales and Southwales: together with a briefe Cronologie of the memorable Acts of the famous men touched in this Genealogy, and what time they were. Where also is handled the worthy descent of his Maiesties ancestour Owen Tudyr, and his affinity with most of the greatest Princes of Christendome. London, Imprinted by Simon Stafford, for Thomas Salisbury, 1604. Sm. 4to, FIRST EDITION. with 9 engraved genealogical tables, some headlines shaved, vellum, gilt edges. £12 12s
As the title page informs us, this volume was "gathered by George Owen Harry, Parson of Whitchurch in Kemeis [Pembrokeshire], at the request of M. Robert Holland." The latter was the Welsh poet, also like Harry a Pembrokeshire parson, then being rector of Prendergast. The volume is of VERY GREAT RARITY and of exceptional interest on account of the engraved genealogies wherein special prominence is given to the WELSH DESCENTS.
- 178 HARVEY (John), The Life of Robert Bruce, King of Scots. Edinburgh, Printed by John Catanach in Wariston's Closs opposite to the Luckenbooths, 1729. Sm. 4to, with the rare Dedication to Lord Bruce, old calf. 18s
- 179 HAVERSHAM (Lord), An Account of the Late Scotch Invasion; as it was Open'd by my Lord Haversham in the House of Lords, on Friday the 25th of February, 1798/9. With some Observations that were made in the House of Commons; and true Copies of Authentick Papers. Printed in the Year 1709. Sm. 4to, sewed, RARE. 18s

- 421 SONG (A) of Thanksgiving. Composed by Benjamin Rogers of Windsor. [Without place, printer or date, abt. 1660]. Broadside, VERY RARE. £7 10s
 This anthem, beginning with the opening sentences of the 33rd Psalm, was sung in the Guildhall on the occasion of the banquet given by the City to King Charles II. on July 5th 1660. Benjamin Rogers, who composed the music to the anthem, is best known by his SETS OF AYRES IN FOUR PARTS. He was organist of Eton College from 1662 to 1665, and at Magdalen College, Oxford, from 1665 to 1685. He was much associated with Dr. Nathaniel Ingelo, author of BENTIVOLIO AND URANIA, who was most probably the compiler of this anthem, as on the same occasion of the reception of Charles at the Guildhall, Ingelo's HYMNUS EUCHARISTICUS was performed and this was also set to music by Rogers.
 The present broadside has the words only and was probably sold in the streets of the City immediately after the ceremony at Guildhall.
